Creating a receivable lease in FPMT is a step-stage process involving two wizards. This job aid provides step-by-step instructions for both wizards. These instructions apply to facilities only and are not applicable to land and other assets.

FPMT has been expanded to meet new Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) requirements. In addition to new functionality, system updates include new user roles as well as changes to existing business processes. Refer to the What’s New with FPMT job aid a high-level overview of system updates, including changes to table names and user role permissions.

| Which FPMT user roles can create a receivable lease? | • Creating a new receivable lease is a two-step process:
  o Step one: The receivable lease creation wizard is completed by users with the FPMT Facilities role. Users must have edit rights.
  o Step two: Users with the FPMT Accounting role complete the Receivable Review wizard, which collects the majority of the receivable lease contract data. Users must have edit rights.
  • Per agency discretion, an individual can be assigned both the Accounting and Facilities user roles. |
| What are the consequences of not completing step two (Receivable Review wizard)? | • The receivable lease is not a valid record and will not appear on reports.
• For receivable leases that are in scope for GASB, FPMT will not be able to send transactions to AFRS. |
| Where do I access the receivable lease creation wizard? | • The receivable lease creation wizard is accessed via the menu button on the owned facility tile or the lease contract tile. |
| When should I enter a new receivable lease? | • Receivable leases should be entered on or after the receivable lease start date, but before the first payment.
• If there is a master lease contract, the receivable lease start and end dates must fall within the parameters of the master lease. |
| What information do I need to create a receivable lease? | • A copy of the new receivable lease contract.
• The UFI for owned facilities or the master lease contract number for leased facilities.
  o If you need to locate a lease number or a UFI, you can run a Lease Contract Inventory Report or an Owned Facilities Inventory Report from the agency tile in FPMT. |
| Why should I use the wizard? | • The wizard simplifies the receivable lease creation process by guiding you through each step and reducing manual activity in the system.
• The wizard also includes business rules, or validation checks, to prevent incomplete data and common data entry errors. |

Wizard basics:
- The wizard opens in a new window, which will close when you complete the receivable lease creation process. Once the wizard window closes, you will need to refresh your original FPMT window to see all of the changes.
- Once you Save and Close, you cannot go back into the wizard.
- Make sure to allow enough time to complete the wizard process in one sitting. If you time out during the process, you will lose your data.
- You navigate through the wizard by clicking the Next or Previous buttons.

Notify FPMT Accounting User or Continue to Receivable Review Wizard

Once the receivable lease creation wizard has been completed, the remaining lease contract data will need to be entered separately via the Receivable Review wizard (instructions below). Contact your agency’s FPMT accounting user to complete this second step, unless you have both the Facilities and Accounting user roles.

The new receivable lease is not a valid record until the additional financial data has been entered, so it is critical that the second step is completed in a timely manner. Until the remaining financial data is entered, the receivable lease will not appear on reports, and FPMT will not be able to send any transactions to AFRS.

Launch the Receivable Review Wizard

The Receivable Review wizard displays all of your agency’s active receivable contracts, where your agency is the lessor, and gives you the opportunity to update the receivable contract table and add receivable payments, options and amendments. You can go back into this wizard as often as necessary. This job aid is focused on steps relevant to the facilities inventory.
