The Evergreen State College is a national model for student engagement, quality teaching, applied learning, and educational innovation. In addition to the Olympia campus, Evergreen provides upper division, off campus programs to four tribal sites, Tacoma's inner city, and the Grays Harbor community. The college's public service centers assist legislative policy development and enrich school districts, community colleges, businesses, and tribes across the state. Evergreen has earned a national reputation as one of the best liberal arts and sciences colleges in the country.

Agency Mission

As an innovative public liberal arts college, Evergreen emphasizes collaborative, interdisciplinary learning across significant differences. Our academic community engages students in defining and thinking critically about their learning. Evergreen supports and benefits from local and global commitments to social justice, diversity, environmental stewardship, and service in the public interest.

Agency Local Funds

TESC Capital Account

This account is used to support a portion of the colleges appropriated capital program. Most of the revenues come from distributions from the state normal school trust funds and a smaller inflow comes from a portion of tuition collections.

Grants and Contracts Account

Grants and contracts are written agreements received from federal, state or private agencies or private resource providers. Many grants pay for student financial aid and for activities such as the Gear-Up grant to help disadvantaged middle school students prepare for college or the Intel grant for the improvement of K-12 education for math and science curriculum. Grant activity is directly related to the creativity and enterprise of Evergreen's faculty and staff in formulating successful proposals for grants and contracts that improve the quality of the educational experiences for students through various sponsored research and program activities.

Dedicated Local Accounts

Local dedicated fund refers to a few activities where fees are collected for services and those fees are to be used for a specific (dedicated) purpose. Examples include summer session, application fees, and health and counseling. Generally, the activities operate on a break-even basis.

Operating Fee Account

The fund is used to account for the operating fee portion of student tuition collections. Funds are used along with near general fund appropriations to support the total college's operating budget.

Stores Account

This account is used to support stores service activities.

Printing Account

This account is used for the operations of the print shop, graphics, duplicating, and word processing. The accounts render services to other units of the college on a break-even basis. Revenue comes from other college units for services provided.

Other Facilities Account

This account is for support services not required to be accounted in other funds. This includes recycling, media equipment repair, and facilities labor expended on capital projects.

Motor Pool Account

This account is for operations of the college motor pool, which renders service to other units of the college on a break-even basis. Revenue is received from other college units for services provided.

Associated Students Account

This account includes operations of the College Activities Building and student-related activities. The primary source of revenue is the service and activities fee. These monies also finance capital expansion of the College Activities Building.

Bookstore Account

This account is for the operation of the Bookstore which is a self-supporting operation owned and operated by the college. It renders services primarily to students, faculty, and staff and incidentally to the general public. Revenue comes from sales.

Parking Account

This account is for the operation of the college's parking function. Parking is a self-supporting operation owned and operated by the college. Revenue comes from parking permits, fines, and daily receipts.

Housing and Food Account

This account is for the operations of Housing and Food Service, which provides services to students, faculty, and staff, and of the Conferences and Conventions Office, through which all conferences held on campus are coordinated. These are self-supporting operations. Revenue comes from students, faculty, staff, and conferences for services provided.

Grants-in-Aid Scholarships and Fellowships Account

This account includes grant monies for scholarships and fellowships. Examples of activities within this account are the educational opportunities grants and the Bureau of Indian Affairs grants. Revenue is received from federal or non-federal agencies.

Student Loan Account

This account is loadable to students. It includes the Student Loan Account and the National Direct Student Loan Account. Revenue comes from tuition and fees, federal contributions, The Evergreen State College match, and interest on loans.

Endowment Account

This account is composed of gifts and bequests which the donors have specified must remain intact. Each gift is governed by various restrictions on the investment and use of the funds. Income from the investment of these funds is transferred each year for disbursement in accordance with the terms of the respective gifts or bequest.

Guaranteed Student Loan Account

This account is for the guaranteed student loan authorized by the Legislature. Revenue is 2.5 percent of tuition and fees collected from students.
