OFFICE OF FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

Agenda

---

- Key Policies
  - Types of Leases
  - Lease Term
  - Lease Payments
  - Capitalization Threshold
- Tracking Leases in FPMT
  - Demo
  - Accounting Transactions

Why has there been a change?

GASB 87, Leases, changes how we account for right-to-use lease agreements (effective FY 2022).

- Eliminates the current operating and capital lease classifications
- All leases will be treated as financing transactions

Types of Leases

Lease-to-Own Agreements

Contract that transfers ownership of the underlying asset to the lessee by the end of the contract, and does not contain termination options

Record as a financed purchase of an asset by lessee and sale of an asset by lessor

Right-to-Use Lease Agreements

Contract that conveys the control of the right to use another entity's capital asset for a specific period of time

Lessees record lease liability and lease asset and lessors record lease receivable and deferred inflow of resources

Interactive Decision Trees are on Leases Resource website

Capitalization Policy

All right-to-use leases with total payments over the lease term of $500,000 or greater must be capitalized

What payments are included in the Lease Liability?

Fixed payments	Termination Penalties	Purchase Options	Variable payments	Residual Value Guarantees	Other payments
= Fixed payments + in-substance fixed payments – lease incentives	Include unless reasonably certain not to be exercised	Include only if reasonably certain to exercise	Only if they depend on an index or a rate (CPI)	Amounts reasonably certain of being paid	Any other payments that are reasonably certain of being paid

Variable payments that are performance or usage-based are excluded from the lease liability calculation

What payments are excluded from the Lease Liability?

Non-Lease Components*	Variable payments	Other payments
Such as payments for services	That depend on the usage or performance of the asset	Any other payments that were not included in the lease liability
Expense using appropriate subobject and sub-subobject	Expense using SO/SSO for variable lease payments: ED/D202 or EH/H202	Expense using SO/SSO for other lease payments: ED/D203 or EH/H203

*If a contract does not include prices for non-lease components, an estimate should be used to allocate the contract price to those components

Capitalization Policy

All right-to-use leases with total payments over the lease term of $500,000 or greater must be capitalized

Lease Term

Exclude periods where both the lessee and lessor have an option to terminate without permission from the other party. However, include periods where either have the option.

Ignore fiscal funding/cancelation clauses unless reasonably certain it will be exercised

Short-term Leases

Definition: Leases with a maximum possible lease term of 12 months or less, including:

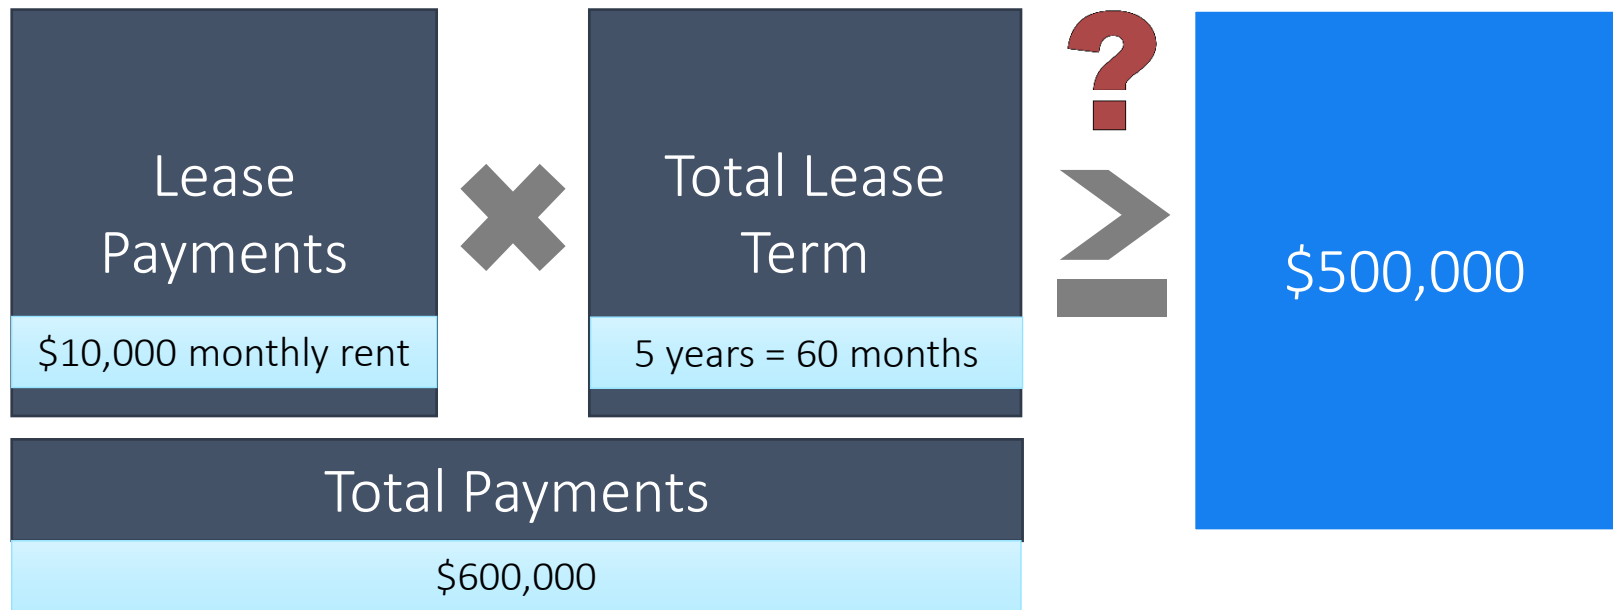

- Rolling month-to-month leases and leases that continue into a holdover period until a new lease contract is signed
- Most leases where both the lessee and lessor have the option to terminate without permission from the other party (such as with 30 or 60 days notice)

Record lease payments as a current period expenditure/expense if your agency is the lessee or revenue if your agency is the lessor

Capitalization Policy

All right-to-use leases with total payments over the lease term of $500,000 or greater must be capitalized

Leases that do not meet the capitalization threshold should be recognized as current period expenditure/expense by the lessee and/or revenue by the lessor.
