

Choice Performance Confirmation Program Final Application and Guide

Congratulations! You have passed the first stage. Your preliminary application packet was approved by the Office of Financial Management (OFM), State Human Resources, and you are ready to move forward. Your next steps are to develop and test your performance management program, and submit your final application for the Choice Performance Confirmation (CPC) program.

Application Process

The next steps in the process are:

Program development

1. Develop/Document program. The project manager and work group develop model PDPs and work on the seven CPC program components, including:

- Develop and/or document current program components including procedures, implementation and communication strategies and plans, and monitoring procedures
- Program award criteria and process
- Recommendation and approval process
- Reconsideration process
- Roles, accountability, policies and procedures
- Training strategies and plans
- Funding

The CPC program should have a full action plan as well as an analysis where there are gaps.

Final Application

- 2. Confirmation review group. SHR will convene a confirmation review group (CRG) consisting of three representatives from confirmed agencies. In addition to evaluating your final application, the CRG will provide feedback and input as you develop your program and submit your final application. SHR is also available for consultation as you move through the conformation process.
- 3. Final application. When ready, the project manager and work group complete and submit the final application to SHR. SHR will review the plan against the 10 confirmation criteria, ensure the program contains the components of a successful performance management program and schedule a briefing.
- 4. Briefing. Your chief executive/deputy, project manager and work group present your application to SHR and the CRG.
- 5. Deliberations. SHR and the CRG analyze the final application and make a recommendation to the OFM director or designee.
- 6. Decision. The OFM director or designee makes a decision on whether to grant confirmation.

Implementation

7. Post-confirmation implementation. Following confirmation, you provide training to your supervisors on your performance incentive program. After training, the project manager and work group assess results and prepare to implement the award program.
8. Post-confirmation monitoring report. Following the distribution of your first-year awards, you will conduct another Employee Performance Management Program Survey. Those results will be included in your initial report to SHR. In addition to the survey results, your agency collects data, analyzes the results and submits a report to SHR following SHR guidelines. SHR analyzes the report and provides input to the OFM director or designee. Confirmed agencies are required to submit annual reports to SHR following their designation. SHR will work with an agency to help assure a successful program by providing consultations, other agency examples and resources. SHR reserves the right to remove an agency's designation if its performance management program no longer meets the required components.
9. Post-confirmation program development. Following confirmation, your agency should be continually developing and pushing forward your performance management program to better align with your agency culture and new best practices by either improving current CPC program components and/or developing additional components. Any changes to current components, or development of new components, are required to be reported to SHR as they occur.

Application content

You have completed the preliminary application packet and satisfied the basic criteria for moving forward. While you may choose to simply complete the final application, we also offer an optional interim report (both located on Attachment A). The interim report gives you the opportunity to receive feedback as you develop your program. Both the interim report and final application consist of responses to a series of questions with supporting documentation, survey results and other data.

In preparation, you should:

1. Review the optional interim report and final application submittal table. This table is similar to the preliminary application submittal table for your preliminary application packet (see Attachment A). Criteria requirements are presented in question-and-answer format. The left-hand column contains the questions to complete and the attachment(s) to include with your response. Some criteria have more than one category of questions to complete. The bulleted questions describe details that must be addressed.

You may include information from other applications such as Baldrige or WSQA to support your response to these questions (see WSQA cross-reference table). The right-hand column contains the standards that will be used to evaluate your application. They measure the maturity of your approaches, the breadth of deployment strategies, extent of organizational learning and integration with your overall performance management system. You should refer to the application questions and the evaluation standards in your responses.

2. Respond completely to all application questions. The questions allow the confirmation review group (CRG) and SHR to evaluate and provide feedback. Review and feedback depend entirely on the completeness of your responses.
3. Cross-reference where appropriate. While the questions are designed to evaluate different criteria, some information may be relevant to many areas. It is appropriate to refer to previous responses without repeating information.
4. Optional: Complete the interim reports. The reporting format for the reports is the same as the application. The far-left column of the submittal table contains the questions and requested support information for each of the three interim reports. The bulleted items describe details that should be addressed for each question. Be sure to include the attachments with your report.
5. Start the final application by preparing the introduction. The introduction helps reviewers understand your lines of business, structure and performance management philosophy. You should discuss your vision, mission, values and other information critical to understanding your organization.
6. Complete the final application. The middle column of the submittal table contains the requirements for the final application. The far right-hand column contains the evaluation standards. You should refer to the application questions and the scoring evaluation materials in framing your responses.

See Attachment A to review the optional interim report and final application requirements.

Consultation and assistance

SHR is available to provide consultation and assistance throughout the confirmation process, including a briefing to your executive management team about the confirmation process. Please contact Olivia Huynh at Olivia.Huynh@ofm.wa.gov for more information.
